Gerald Bard Tjoflat

Gerald Bard Tjoflat received an LL.B. from Duke University School of Law in 1957, after two years of military service during the Korean War and undergraduate study at the University of Virginia and the University of Cincinnati. Following a decade in private practice in Jacksonville, Judge Tjoflat was appointed to the Florida trial bench in 1968 and to the United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida in 1970. In 1975, he was elevated to the United States Court of Appeals; he served as a circuit judge initially in the Fifth Circuit and then, after Congress divided that circuit in 1981, he moved to the Eleventh Circuit, which covers the states of Florida, Georgia, and Alabama. Judge Tjoflat was the chief judge of the Eleventh Circuit from 1989 to 1996.

For over twenty years, Judge Tjoflat has played an important role in the administration of criminal justice in the federal courts. From 1975 to 1987, he was a member of the Advisory Corrections Council of the United States, which was charged by statute with overseeing the operation of the federal prison system. From 1973 to 1987, he was a member and then, after 1978, chairman of a seven-judge committee charged with overseeing the performance of the nation's probation and parole officers and with communicating to Congress—in the form of testimony before the house and Senate committees on the judiciary—the views of the federal courts on matters of crime and punishment.

Judge Tjoflat has been involved in the administration of criminal justice at the international level, as well. In 1980 and in 1985, he was a member of the United States delegation to the Sixth and Seventh United Nations Congresses for the Prevention of Crime and Treatment of Offenders.

Judge Tjoflat has been widely recognized for his service to the community. He has received the Fordham-Stein Prize in recognition of outstanding professional conduct and promoting the advancement of justice in the public mind. He has received numerous honorary degrees from institutions of higher learning, the Silver Beaver Award from the Boy Scouts of America, and the Brotherhood Award from the National Conference of Christians and Jews. From 1975 through 1984, he was president of the North Florida Council of the Boy Scouts of America; thereafter, he served as chairman of the council's executive board. Judge Tjoflat is a member of St. John's Cathedral, where he has served several terms on the vestry and as senior warden. He is an honorary life member of the board of visitors of Duke University School of Law, which has honored him many times for his years of dedicated service.

Caps and Gowns—An Explanation

In the medieval city, clothing not unlike that worn by the participants in this commencement ceremony was common. The modern academic costume has evolved from the dress of the medieval guilds and the early religious orders. Today, anyone with a college or university degree may wear the black academic gown. The hood, which is placed on the graduate by a member of the faculty during the ceremony, indicates the doctoral level degree. Placement of the hood by a member of the faculty gives recognition of the academic accomplishment, and welcomes the graduate to the fraternity of professionals. At the University of California, Hastings College of the Law, the lining of the hood has a blue chevron on a gold ground to represent the university colors. A Hastings faculty member who holds a degree from another college or university wears the colors of that school. The velvet edging on hoods is the color which represents the subject in which the degree was earned by the wearer. Purple is Law. The Doctor's costume also has velvet trim on the gown, including cross bars on the sleeve. The trimming may be black or may match the color of the hood edging. The tassel is on the left side of the cap indicating an advanced degree.
